

Yellow warning
Wind

Between
06:00 Sun 26 Jan 2025 and
13:00 Sun 26 Jan 2025

Strong winds are likely to cause some disruption during Sunday morning.

What to expect

- Road, rail, air and ferry services may be affected, with longer journey times possible
- Some roads and bridges may close
- Power cuts may occur, with the potential to affect other services, such as mobile phone coverage
- Some damage to buildings, such as tiles blown from roofs, could happen
- Injuries and danger to life from flying debris are possible
- Injuries and danger to life could occur from large waves and beach material being thrown onto sea fronts, coastal roads and properties

Further details

A spell of very strong south to southeasterly winds accompanied by heavy rain and also the possibility of a few thunderstorms, will move east across southwest England during Sunday morning.

Winds are likely to gust 55-65 mph widely with a few gusts of 75 mph possible, chiefly near some exposed coasts and hills, but also where heavy showers occur further inland.

What Should I Do?

Prepare to protect your property and people from injury.

✓ Very low likelihood of medium impacts

Check for loose items outside your home and plan how you could secure them. Items include; bins, garden furniture, trampolines, tents, sheds, and fences.

Give yourself the best chance of avoiding delays by checking road conditions if driving, or bus and train timetables, amending your travel plans if necessary.

People cope better with power cuts when they have prepared for them in advance. It's easy to do; consider gathering torches and batteries, a mobile phone power pack and other essential items.

If you are on the coast, stay safe during stormy weather by being aware of large waves. Even from the shore large breaking waves can sweep you off your feet and out to sea. Take care if walking near cliffs; know your route and keep dogs on a lead. In an emergency, call 999 and ask for the Coastguard.

Be prepared for weather warnings to change quickly. When a weather warning is issued, the Met Office recommends staying up to date with the weather forecast in your area.

Reason for update

End time extended and warning area expanded slightly further northeast.
